"Your body has a right over you." (al-Bukhārī 1968)

Month 8

Body, Mind and Rest

Sleep, movement, calm and balance. A guide for students for each live session this month.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَٰنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Month 8: Body, Mind and Rest

You cannot study, pray or lead well when you are exhausted. This month you look after the body and mind you have been entrusted with.

How to use this guide

1. Before each session, read that session’s short teaching below. It takes two minutes.
2. During the session, take notes on the lines provided and write one question to ask.
3. After the session, do the “Try it” action within two days.
4. Every day, tick your habit tracker. Every Sunday, spend five minutes reviewing the week.
5. At the end of the month, complete the Month Review and show it to a parent or your facilitator.

This month at a glance

Week	Deen	Educational Development	Skills	Personal Development
Week 1 Sleep	The sunnah of sleep	Sleep and memory	A bedtime routine	Managing energy
Week 2 Food and movement	Moderation in eating	Brain-friendly breaks	Plan an activity	Gratitude for the body
Week 3 Stress and feelings	Hearts find rest	Exam stress	Calming skills	Name it and ask for help
Week 4 Cleanliness and balance	Ṭahārah	A balanced week	Personal organisation	Nothing in excess

The month's challenge

For 14 days: sleep at the same time, move for 20 minutes and keep screens out of bed.

Week 1 Sleep

Deen: The sunnah of sleep

The Prophet ﷺ taught us to sleep in wuḍūʾ, to recite the evening adhkār and āyat al-Kursī, and to rest on the right side. A good night begins with remembrance.

Try it this week

Each night this week, make wuḍūʾ, recite your adhkār and sleep without your phone in bed.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Educational Development: Sleep and memory

Sleep is when the brain files what you learned. All-night cramming wipes out the gains, while a good night strengthens them.

Try it this week

For one week, stop studying 60 minutes before bed and note how you remember.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Skills: A bedtime routine

A routine tells the body it is time to sleep: lights low, screens off, same time each night.

Try it this week

Write your bedtime routine in five steps and follow it for seven nights.

My notes and questions

Personal Development: Managing energy

Energy, not time, is often the real limit. Notice when you are sharpest and use that time for hard work.

Try it this week

For three days, note your energy each hour. Plan your hardest task for your best hour.

My notes and questions

Week 2 Food and movement

Deen: Moderation in eating

The Prophet ﷺ said the worst vessel a person fills is his stomach; a few bites suffice, and if he must, a third for food, a third for drink and a third for air (at-Tirmidhī 2380).

Try it this week

Eat slowly at one meal each day and stop before you are full.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Educational Development: Brain-friendly breaks

Short walks, water and stretching restore focus. Long breaks on a phone do not.

Try it this week

Take a five-minute walk between two study blocks and notice the difference.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Week 2: Food and movement (continued)

Skills: Plan an activity

Twenty minutes of walking, skipping or football three times a week improves mood, sleep and focus.

Try it this week

Put three 20-minute activity slots in your calendar and keep them.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Personal Development: Gratitude for the body

Allah has made you in the best form. Being thankful for what your body can do is healthier than comparing it with others.

Try it this week

Write five things your body lets you do and thank Allah for them.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

Week 3 Stress and feelings

Deen: Hearts find rest

Allah says that hearts find rest in His remembrance (ar-Raʿd 13:28). Dhikr and duʻā are the first medicine for worry, alongside real action.

Try it this week

When you feel worried this week, say the duʻā for anxiety and then name one step you can take.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Educational Development: Exam stress

A little nervousness helps; too much hurts. Preparation, sleep and a plan for the exam day reduce it.

Try it this week

Write a plan for your next test: what to study, when to sleep, what to bring.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Skills: Calming skills

Slow breathing, writing your thoughts down, and a short walk are simple skills that work.

Try it this week

Try breathing, journalling and walking this week and note which helps you most.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Personal Development: Name it and ask for help

Naming a feeling reduces its power. If sadness or worry lasts, talk to a parent, teacher or trusted adult; seeking help is strength.

Try it this week

Write what you felt strongly this week and talk to a trusted adult if it is heavy.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Week 4 Cleanliness and balance

Deen: Ṭahārah

The Prophet ﷺ said cleanliness is half of faith (Muslim 223). Clean body, clean clothes and clean surroundings are part of worship.

Try it this week

Do a complete tidy of your prayer place and your bag, and keep them that way for the week.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Educational Development: A balanced week

A week with study, rest, family, deen and play lasts. A week with only study collapses.

Try it this week

Plan a week that includes all five and check it against your timetable.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Skills: Personal organisation

A tidy bag and room mean less time lost looking for things. Five minutes at night saves thirty in the morning.

Try it this week

Prepare your bag and clothes every night for seven days.

My notes and questions

.....

.....

.....

Personal Development: Nothing in excess

The Muslim way is balance: no neglect and no extremes. Even good things, done without rest, harm you.

Try it this week

Look at your week. Where are you overdoing something? Cut it by 20%.

A page for parents

Protect sleep: a fixed bedtime, no phones in bedrooms at night, and calm mornings. Notice signs of low mood or constant worry and talk early; seek professional help if it continues.

- What the monthly report shows. Your teenager's facilitator sends a report each month with attendance, a rating for each of the four pillars, assignments handed in and a personal note.
- Three questions to ask this month. What did you learn that surprised you? Which session helped you most, and why? What is one thing I can do to support you?
- How to help. A calm place and time to study, early nights, and your interest. Praise effort and honesty more than marks.
